AFTER LOSING HIS WIFE a few years back, Eddie was starting to adjust to a simple life of living alone and taking care of himself. His income from social security wasn’t much, but he was able to make ends meet by living frugally. Although his adult son lived in town, they didn’t see each other much. Eddie knew his son had issues with substance abuse, and their relationship was often strained because of it. His son had two children of his own, ages seven and ten, but Eddie didn’t have the chance to see them often. The children’s mother also struggled with addiction and hadn’t been a very solid presence in their lives.

Eddie figured that the rest of his days were going to be quiet and uneventful. But one day, everything changed. His son’s issues with drug abuse had gotten worse. He was barely able to take care of himself let alone his children. Eddie realized that, if he didn’t take his grandchildren into his home, they would most likely end up in the foster care system. So he opened his doors and started the journey of raising his grandchildren. He isn’t alone — it is estimated that over 2.5 million grandparents in the country are responsible for raising their grandchildren.

Having his grandchildren around definitely brought some changes to the household. Their energy was boundless — and so were the increased costs of having more people in the house. Eddie could barely make ends meet on his social security income, so he was really struggling. Even though it was difficult, he knew his only option was to ask for help. Life wasn’t turning out the way he expected, and he found himself getting angry. Angry at losing his wife; angry at his son for not being able to handle his responsibilities. When he first visited Kalamazoo Loaves & Fishes, he lashed out at the staff and volunteers.

“I knew they were trying to be helpful, but at first it felt like pity,” stated Eddie. “However, the more I got to know everyone, the more I realized there wasn’t any judgement — they were just there to help.”

Eddie doesn’t know what the future holds. He has learned a lot raising his grandchildren, especially that it’s okay to ask for help. “I’m very grateful that Loaves & Fishes has been there to support us when we needed it.”
A NOTE FROM JEN -

MEET GINA NOWLING, DOUGLASS PANTRY COORDINATOR

Our high-capacity pantry at the Douglass Community Association opened in 2017 and has seen continuous growth and demand since opening its doors. We sat down with Gina Nowling, Douglass Pantry Coordinator, to learn more about how this pantry location serves the Kalamazoo community.

— Jennifer Johnson, Executive Director

Q: There’s a welcoming feeling when you walk through the doors of this pantry; what do you attribute that to?
A: A little bit of everything. A lot of our clients know each other so they’re comfortable when they come in. Our volunteers also play a big part in making this space feel warm and inviting.

Q: Do you feel the Douglass Pantry has had an impact on the northern part of the City of Kalamazoo since opening in 2017?
A: Oh, yes. This pantry serves around 32 households per shift and is like a community within a community. For many nearby, there’s a vast need for grocery items, especially after people cover the rent, gas for the car, daycare; there’s often nothing left for food after that.

Q: How do the organizations within the Douglass Community Association contribute to a feeling of “community” at this pantry location?
A: We’re all very supportive of each other and that carries over to the people we serve. They’re always checking in on me to make sure I’m safe and that everything is going okay.

Q: What type of grocery items are your clients most in need of this time of year?
A: My clients are always grateful for the groceries they shop for, but this time of year they especially appreciate hearty meats, foods that help make holiday celebrations a little more festive like dessert items, and personal care items. Toiletries are very popular year-round at this pantry.

OUR WAREHOUSE EXPANSION IS COMPLETE!
Thank you to everyone who attended our November 7th Open House.
COMMUNITY SPOTLIGHT: TWO MEN AND A TRUCK®
Since 2015, TWO MEN AND A TRUCK® has helped Kalamazoo Loaves & Fishes fight hunger. The company has generously donated time to transport large food drive donations when KLF needed an extra hand (and truck). From Little League complexes to local banks and grocery stores, their staff is always ready to rise to the occasion of helping their local communities.

Giving back to the community is at the heart of the TWO MEN AND A TRUCK® organization. In 2018 alone, franchises donated more than $3 million worth of moving services to people and organizations in need. This fall, the Kalamazoo/Battle Creek franchise hosted their first ever Movers for Meals food drive to benefit KLF.

“We knew we wanted to do something for the community this fall,” said Sarah Shaw, Marketing Manager for the franchise. “From there we asked our professional movers to vote on what meant most to them, and they wanted to fight hunger in Kalamazoo.”

The team coordinated with local businesses and organizations to serve as drop-off locations and generated 250 pounds of food (that’s over 200 meals!) for people in our community.

“Our franchise has worked with Kalamazoo Loaves & Fishes in the past and has been able to build a relationship with the KLF team,” shares Shaw. “We know that when we donate time or food items to KLF, they will help support those families who are most in need in our community.”

In addition to helping KLF, TWO MEN AND A TRUCK® Kalamazoo/Battle Creek has donated time to help raise awareness and funds to prevent child abuse, donated toys to children at Bronson’s Children’s Hospital, and also collected essential care items for women in need. They look forward to hosting their 2nd Annual Movers for Meals in the fall of 2020 and hope you’ll help them in the fight to end hunger.
FIGHTING HUNGER
LOCAL YOUTH ENGAGE THE COMMUNITY THIS HOLIDAY SEASON

Generosity has no age boundaries. We continue to be humbled and encouraged to see kids and teens of all ages going out of their way to help others in the community. Whether independent efforts or large group activities, it’s clear that youth in our community have inherited the philanthropic spirit of Kalamazoo County. There are countless examples of different school building and groups helping throughout the year. We appreciate them all more than can be adequately expressed. Here are just a few youth-led charitable ventures scheduled during this holiday season.

KC Feeds Kzoo

The students of Kalamazoo Central High School are stuffing the bus — and then some. Each year, they continue to increase — and meet — the goals of their KC Feeds Kzoo Project. Led by teacher advisor Rex Hafer, last year the KCHS students raised over $7,000 and 11,000 pounds of food. See how you can help this year:

- Old Dog Tavern Benefit Concert
  Thursday, December 12th From 6-9 pm

- Stuff The Bus at Harding’s Market on West Main Street
  Saturday, December 14th from 9 am-2 pm

Unable to attend either event? Help them reach their goal by donating at kzoolf.org and designating KC Feeds Kzoo.

MAPLE STREET MIDDLE SCHOOL Coin Drive

It started out as a simple idea of donating pennies with a modest goal of $900. But the students of Maple Street Middle School far exceeded their goal and raised just over $3,700 during their first ever December coin drive. The coin drive is scheduled for December 2nd-December 20th this year, and they plan to surpass last year’s totals. Want to help out? Stop by the main office to donate your coins!

PORTAGE NORTHERN MIDDLE SCHOOL Empty Bowls

Art students at Portage North Middle School will once again create clay bowls to raise awareness of hunger in our community. On December 5th from 5:30-7:00 pm, PNMS will host their 3rd annual Empty Bowls Charity Event. The public is welcome to attend. Students will sell their creations and there will be raffles to raise additional funds. This event has raised over $2,000 for KLF in the past two years. The Empty Bowls Project is a movement started by artists and crafts people to support food-related charities. Other schools in Kalamazoo County have held Empty Bowls events including Prairie Ridge Elementary, Edison Elementary, Spring Valley Center for Exploration, Arcadia Elementary, and Northglade Montessori. Want to host an Empty Bowls event? Contact Mandakini Brophy at mandakini@kzoolf.org or 269-488-2617 ext. 206.
